Kazy was a lone Golden Retriever. She has been having some problems with territory; CATS! Cats were her enemy. But she hated attacking and killing. It just didn't seem right to kill. Of course she had to kick them out. But how? Maybe she could make friends with the cats? Or fight for the territory? This territory she lived in was the best one. The other territories were taken or not very sheltered. She lived in a huge cave. It was pretty obvious the cats didn't want to share.

This is where Kazy's story begins. The fight against cats and dogs. This is the dawn of the Cats Vs Dogs Battle!
